LOCAL CRAFT BEER

Our Story: 'Surfer Girl' - a 34-foot yacht sailed to Cocos in July of 2017 en-route to Tanzania. On arrival, the English captain of Surfer Girl abruptly abandoned ship and departed back to London, leaving the vessel with Tony (the local sea salt maker, baker, brewer, coconut farmer and wannabe romantic sailer) as the caretaker of the vessel.

Four months went past and Tony enjoyed sailing around the atoll, camping parties and sunsets whilst moored in the Direction Island bay. He purchased the vessel, with dreams of delivering Cocos sea salt to Broome, then sailing her west to Madagascar. Those dreams were ripped away along with the mooring when in 2021 cyclonic conditions hit Cocos. Surfer Girl was wrecked on the rocks east of the rip at Direction Island. She was destroyed and had her remnants reluctantly cut up on site, removed and burned with the help of the local community. In the hardship of this event, Surfer girl lives on in memory and name.

Inspired by sunset dinners, great beer, wine and food, Surfer Girl Brewery and Restaurant was born. To make the most of the good times; enjoying the natural paradise that is around us at every moment. Her bow now rests in peace as an outdoor bar at the restaurant and the keel resting in the waters East of the Direction Island rip.
